

Adjunct Clinical Track

Adjunct Clinical Track faculty are usually in the private practice of medicine outside the University of Michigan; in other words, the University is not the sole employer. These appointments are at 0% to 49% effort, are for no longer than one year, are renewable, and are without tenure.

Adjunct Clinical Associate is a non-faculty title given to health care providers under special circumstances by the Medical School to provide health care in university outpatient settings. Adjunct Clinical Associates hold a doctoral degree or its equivalent in professional and technical experience and are fully trained to provide clinical care. Adjunct Clinical Associates are usually community physicians.
