

Adjunct Research Track

Adjunct Research Faculty appointments are made when an individual's primary employment responsibilities lie outside the University. This appointment indicates that the individual is working for a limited portion of his/her time (part-time) on a research project housed in the University of Michigan Medical School.

Adjunct Research Investigator: A person appointed to the position of Adjunct Research Investigator must hold a doctoral degree or its equivalent in professional and technical experience and typically has completed two or more years of postdoctoral work. The typical candidate for this position is someone whose scholarly reputation is equivalent to a person who has recently completed a Ph.D. or M.D. and/or postdoctoral training and demonstrates evidence of potential for scholarship. Candidates for Adjunct Research Investigator are not expected to have a record of institutional citizenship or teaching, although achievement in these areas is a welcome addition.
