

Visiting Research Track

Appointees to this track must have employment responsibilities with another institution of higher education and are usually on leave from that institution. (e.g. here for a six month sabbatical.) Visiting Research Faculty appointments indicates that the individual is working for a limited portion of his/her time (part-time) on a research project housed in the University of Michigan Medical School.

Visiting Research Professor: Appointment to this highest rank in the Research Track requires an internationally recognized record of continued excellence in research. A Visiting Research Professor will have a substantial and continued record of first-author and/or senior-author publications in peer-reviewed journals. A Visiting Research Professor will have served as principal or co-principal investigator on center grants, major grants (e.g. NIH R01) or equivalent and demonstrate a maintained record of such funding. National and international lectures, seminars, study sections, and ad hoc reviews are expected of a Visiting Research Professor. Visiting Research Professors are expected to perform mentoring, supervising, and laboratory or research based teaching in a number of venues. Institutional citizenship is expected of a Visiting Research Professor.
