

ADJUNCT PHYSICIAN INSTRUCTOR

Adjunct physician instructors are governed by the same rules and expectations as other adjunct clinical track faculty with the exception of fulfilling the 50 hours of teaching requirement per year. Adjunct physician instructors may provide less teaching as long as it is within the context of University of Michigan Medical School clerkships, rotations, or electives.

An adjunct physician instructor is fully trained to provide clinical care and is qualified to participate in educational programs at the University of Michigan Medical School. Appointment to this rank requires evidence that the individual has received an appropriate medical and graduate medical education and documentation of full clinical competence. Certification by the relevant professional board must be pending or completed, recognizing that exceptions for some internationally trained physicians may be granted by the Medical School. Evidence of competence in clinical and didactic teaching is expected. Publications in a candidate's professional field are encouraged but not required.
