

Adjunct Research Track

Adjunct Research Faculty appointments are made when an individual's primary employment responsibilities lie outside the University. This appointment indicates that the individual is working for a limited portion of his/her time (part-time) on a research project housed in the University of Michigan Medical School.

Adjunct Assistant Research Scientist: Candidates who are appointed or promoted to this rank must have a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals. Participation at professional meetings is typically present. Candidates for Adjunct Assistant Research Scientist should demonstrate potential for scholarly development, possibly as part of a larger research program.
